

2018 Enhancing Teaching and Learning Conference

Saturday, March 3, 2018
Cleveland University – Kansas City
10850 Lowell Ave., Overland Park, KS

Schedule at a Glance

- 8:00 Registration
- 8:45 Introductions and instructions - Continental Breakfast
- 9:00 Concurrent Sessions
- 12:00 Keynote Session: Dr. Brian Davidson, “Let’s Develop the Skills That Matter Most” In this general overview, educators and staff learn about the growing body of research supporting the need to develop non-cognitive skills. Special attention is placed on understanding which non-cognitive skills are the best predictors of academic, workplace, and life outcomes. Emphasis will be placed on non-cognitive factors such as grit, growth mindset, resilience, adaptability, hope, intrinsic motivation, and numerous others. Educators and staff will learn some general strategies to foster these factors in both themselves and those they work with.
- 1:00 Concurrent Sessions
- 2:45 Closing & Prize Drawing

Below is a sample of the concurrent sessions:

- “Flipping the Classroom and Best Practices for Online Learning”
- “Creating Roadmaps to Success: Effective Course Designs”
- “Technology for Teaching and Beyond”
- “Slaying the Publishing Dragon: How to Create Your Own Textbook Without Driving Yourself Crazy”
- “Breaking Down Walls: Rethinking Student Engagement and Skill Transfer in Writing Classroom”

Lunch will be provided by KCPDC - *Please notify your campus KCPDC representative if you have special dietary needs.

Registration Deadline: February 21

* No Registration Fee! The conference is included in our institutional membership!

The Enhancing Teaching & Learning conference is a KCPDC professional development event that provides an opportunity for educators to share their successes in the classroom.

The conference will include four conference tracks or themes:

1. Engaging Students
2. Technology in the Classroom
3. Assessing Teaching and Learning
4. Professional Development Resources for Faculty